Massproductions' hit chair 'Waiter' expands: Now with arms

During the Stockholm Design Week 2010, Massproductions introduced the Waiter chair, which with its simple, trim design, is specially adapted to meet the needs of waiters and guests alike. Nine years later, at the Stockholm Furniture Fair 2019, Massproductions is launching Waiter XL – a larger model with arms for added comfort.

Waiter was designed from the point of view of a waiter – being light, sturdy and serviceable, but at the same time comfortable, encouraging guests to linger on at the dinner table. It was hit and Waiter soon became a statement stool for Massproductions and a tribute to waiters everywhere. Waiter XL has even more attitude and a greater level of comfort, with a broader seat and optional arms.

When designing Waiter and Waiter XL, Chris Martin wanted to create a chair from a new perspective: the user's. He saw an opportunity of developing a product adapted to the day-to-day needs of waiters and their patterns of movement. The back legs of Waiter and Waiter XL are designed so that they are neatly tucked under the seat to minimize the risk of tripping over them. Waiter is also solid and comfortable for the person sitting.

“Waiter is an ordinary, simple wooden chair, which is harder to find than you think. For us, Waiter is a tribute to the waiters of the world whose skills help us enjoy nice culinary experiences,” says Chris Martin, co-founder and head designer, Massproductions.

The new Waiter XL is available in three versions: Waiter XL Side Chair, Waiter XL Armchair, both at regular chair heights but broader than the original, and the Waiter XL Easy Chair, a neatly designed chair for lounging. Despite its trim design, the chair is strong and stable, made in European FSC certified wood. Waiter XL works well in homes as in restaurants.

About Massproductions

The international furniture company Massproductions was founded in 2009 by the Swedish designer Magnus Elebäck, and the British designer Chris Martin. The name, Massproductions, reflects the founders' idea of using industrial production to create responsible and sustainable high-quality furniture. Massproductions produces and designs according to the “form follows function” philosophy, with the focus always being on the design process. Both in 2016 and 2017 the company has been granted with prestigious awards like Designer- and Producer of the Year by different magazines. Today the company has its office and studio in Hammarby Sjöstad, Stockholm.
